

RBI mopping up liquidity with dual VRRR auctions

TAKING CONTROL. Aims to tighten money supply amid surplus conditions

Our Bureau
Mumbai

As liquidity continues to be in surplus in the banking system, the Reserve Bank of India has conducted liquidity mop up operations via variable rate reverse repo (VRRR) auctions, sometimes conducting even two auctions in a day, on almost all days of August so far.

This move is in line with its withdrawal of accommodative monetary policy stance. The RBI mopped up surplus liquidity through VRRR in July too.

BACK-TO-BACK DEALS
On Wednesday, the central bank conducted two VRRR auctions to suck out surplus liquidity from the banking system.

At the first day of the two-day VRRR auction, RBI received offers from banks for parking liquidity amounting to ₹22,882 crore against the notified amount of ₹50,000 crore. At the second day of the auction, the central bank received offers amounting to ₹7,575 crore against the notified amount of ₹50,000 crore. It accepted these offers at a weighted average rate of 6.49 percent.

India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra), in a report, noted that liquidity of the banking system eased in a meaningful way in July 2024, with the overall liquidity, including daily net balance, being in surplus throughout the month. The rating agency assessed that the average daily net liquidity adjustment facility's balance had been hovering around ₹1.5 lakh crore surplus during the second week of August 2024.

'EASED SURPLUS'

Ind-Ra expects Q2FY25 to remain in moderate surplus on an average basis, and the government spending pattern will be the key to ensure easing of liquidity on a sustainable basis, especially Q3FY25 onwards.

The agency sees improvement in liquidity to aid money market activities in Q2FY25. On the other hand, the tapering off of banking system credit will complement the reduction in demand for certificates of deposits by banks. This will also favour short-term money market rates.

RBI Deputy Governor moots risk-based premium for deposit insurance

Our Bureau
Mumbai

Deposit insurers can incentivise banks to adopt stronger risk management practices by tying insurance premiums to the level of risk posed by individual banks, said Swaminathan J, Deputy Governor, RBI.

"The implementation of risk-based premium for deposit insurance merits consideration... This approach not only enhances the overall stability of the financial system but also ensures that institutions with higher risk profiles contribute more to the insurance fund," Swaminathan said at the international conference of the International Association of Deposit Insurers-Asia Pacific Regional Committee (IADI-APRC) in Jaipur.

Currently, the Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation collects premium from banks at a uniform rate — 12 paise per ₹100 of assessable deposit. Insurance cover is available for deposits up to ₹5 lakh.

CRISIS PREPAREDNESS
The Deputy Governor noted that deposit insurers can mitigate technology risks through supervisory rating resilience of banks' digital payment systems.

Swaminathan said financial institutions need to update their crisis preparedness to be able to address and mitigate the fast-evolving risks introduced by technological advancements. They should regularly assess their capability in accessing contingency funding within specified timeframes. He noted that the events of 2023 in the US revealed that some of the affected banks were either unprepared to use the existing 'Federal discount window' as a source of liquidity or had not included it as one of the funding sources.

The Deputy Governor cautioned that the 24/7 availability of online and mobile banking can heighten vulnerabilities, potentially accelerating bank runs and liquidity crises during periods of stress, as customers may withdraw funds even outside traditional banking hours and without having to visit a bank branch.

Further, this behaviour is amplified by the emergence of digital sources of influence, such as social media platforms, which have proved their ability to trigger a coordinated financial behaviour.

Commerce Ministry seeks extension of interest equalisation scheme

Press Trust of India
New Delhi

The Commerce Ministry has sought further extension of the interest equalisation scheme on pre- and post-shipment rupee export credit to promote the country's outbound shipments, an official said on Wednesday. The scheme will end this month.

Commerce Secretary Sunil Barthwal said some schemes, including interest equalisation, are in different stages of completion, so their renewal has to take place.

Director General of Foreign Trade Santosh Kumar Sarangi said on the interest equalisation scheme, "There is a proposal for extending it and we are hopeful it should come through in the next month or so."

In June, the government extended the scheme on pre- and post-shipment rupee export credit for two months only for MSMEs. Now, the Commerce Ministry is seeking an extension for other exporters also. The scheme helps exporters from identified sectors and all MSME manufacturer exporters to avail of rupee export credit at competitive rates at a time when the global economy is facing headwinds.
